

More Excelsiors

HENRY G. DENT (a Chicago Tribune) is a well-known writer and editor. He has been associated with the Tribune since 1857, and has held various positions of responsibility. He is a member of the New York Historical Society, and has written several books on the history of the Tribune and the city of Chicago.